The Federal Government Source for Women's Health Information

Endorsers and Partners

The National Women's Health Information Center (NWHIC) is endorsed and supported by a number of Federal Government departments as well as other organizations, associations, and corporations who are dedicated to women's health and wellness issues. NWHIC partners with organizations interested in women's health to increase health awareness and promote healthy behaviors in women and the people they care about.

NWHIC also works closely with health care professionals and the media to expand its reach throughout the public. If your organization is interested in endorsing, supporting, or partnering with NWHIC, we can help you promote your support of the National Women's Health Information Center by providing you with:

- Printer-ready materials to use in health clinics, hospitals, schools, churches, etc.
- Free NWHIC branded publications in English and Spanish to help you spread the word about a proactive approach to health
- Free print, radio, and TV public service announcements (PSAs) for your use
- Your name and web site on our Endorsers and Partners Page

Suggestions for associations and organizations interested in supporting the National Women's Health Information Center and women's health in general include:

- Endorse your campaign by adding your organization's name to those who support NWHIC.
- Add your organization's logo to various NWHIC materials to signify your endorsement of our purpose. You can reproduce our materials and distribute them.
- Speak out to your constituency about women's health issues and act as a community spokesperson who gives interviews promoting women's health.
- Print PSAs for advertising. Add your logo to the PSA and thousands of people will see that you are part of NWHIC.
- Produce your own PSAs for television that carry NWHIC's messages.

If your organization is interested in endorsing, supporting, or partnering with NWHIC, please use the enclosed "Endorser Submission Form" and submit it for review.
